The Magic to Build a Positive Power™ Team

Leading a Positive Power™ team can only happen when a leader knows how to create an environment in which each team member flourishes. It requires an understanding of behavioral styles, coaching and inspiring team members to focus on the shared goals of the group. Capturing the power of the cycle of motivation that drives each employee leads to increased productivity and flow. Engaged employees feel better about themselves and their work and the entire organization benefits from this positive chain reaction that starts with effective leadership.

The Politics of Power and Perception in the Workplace

Leadership today demands excellence in every area. Yet mediocre communication skills and deeply ingrained misconceptions about communication present a stumbling block for most leaders and for their organizations. Success depends on getting to the root of communication problems, understanding the sources of both power and perceptions and building communication skills suited for today's complex challenges.

Unleash Your Creative Magic to Transcend Business Problems

Learn the latest techniques for developing unique, innovative solutions to business challenges. This workshop will show you how to reduce decision-making stress by following an approach that expands and tests possible choices. Participants will understand how to filter information overload, which can actually impose ideas that block or hinder imagination and creativity.
